Objectives and Investment Policy

The investment objective of the Fund is to track the price and the performance, before fees and expenses, of MarketVector™ - Defiance US Listed AI and Power Infrastructure Index (the Index). The Index that is designed to measure the performance of companies driving artificial intelligence (AI) systems and the essential energy to power these systems, including power generation, utilities, data centres, and AI hardware.

The Index is governed by a published, rules-based methodology and is designed to measure the performance of US companies contributing to critical electrical grid and AI infrastructure through nuclear and other decentralized energy technologies (i.e., energy that is generated close to where it will be used, rather than at an industrial plant, such as solar panels), electric equipment and related engineering and construction services, electrical utilities, data centre operations, and AI related computing hardware.

Risk and Reward Profile

The categorisation above is not guaranteed to remain unchanged and may shift over time.

The lowest category (1) does not imply a risk-free investment.

The risk indicator was calculated incorporating simulated historical data and may not be a reliable indication of the future risk profile of the Fund.

The categorisation above is not guaranteed to remain unchanged and may shift over time.

The categorisation above (7) is due to the nature of the Fund's investments and risk associated with those investments, including:

- There is no assurance that any appreciation in the value of investments will occur, or that the investment objective of the Fund will be achieved.
- Artificial Intelligence (AI) Risk: Issuers engaged in artificial intelligence typically have high research and capital expenditures and, as a result, their profitability can vary widely, if they are profitable at all. The space in which they are engaged is highly competitive and issuers' products and services may become obsolete very quickly. These companies are heavily dependent on intellectual property rights and may be adversely affected by loss or impairment of those rights. The issuers are also subject to legal, regulatory and political changes that may have a large impact on their profitability.

- Electric Equipment Risk: The electrical equipment industry can be significantly affected by general economic trends, including employment, economic growth, interest rates, and changes in commodity prices. Electrical equipment companies are subject to the risks of technical obsolescence, and their profitability may be affected by government regulation and spending, import controls and worldwide competition. Companies in these industries also can be adversely affected by liability for environmental damage, depletion of resources, and mandated expenditures for safety and pollution control. These factors may result in a material adverse impact on the Fund's portfolio securities and the performance of the Fund.
- Sectoral Investment Risk: Where a Fund invests a significant portion of its assets in the securities of companies of a sector, it is more likely to be impacted by events or conditions affecting that sector. The Fund shall invest predominantly in companies that derive their revenues contributing to critical electrical grid and AI infrastructure through nuclear and other decentralized energy technologies, electric equipment and related engineering and construction services, electrical utilities, data centre operations, and AI related computing hardware. This sector can be significantly affected by, among other things, worldwide economic growth, supply and demand for specific products and services, rapid technological developments, international political and economic developments, environmental issues and tax and governmental regulatory policies.

Risks not covered by the indicator, but which are materially relevant to the Fund include:

- Tracking error risk: The Fund's performance may not exactly track the Index. This can result from market fluctuations, changes in the composition of the Index, transaction costs, the costs of making changes to the Fund's portfolio and other Fund expenses.
- Liquidity on secondary market risk: There can be no certainty that Shares can always be bought or sold on a stock exchange or that the market price will reflect the NAV of the Fund.

For a complete overview of all risks attached to this Fund, refer to the section entitled "Risk Factors" in the Supplement and the Prospectus.
